Augustine The Confessions Trans Maria

Augustine's Confessions is arguably the first, and unequivocally the most influential, religious autobiography in the Christian tradition. Augustine (who was a hard-core hedonist before his sudden conversion) writes about faith with the reckless abandon of a lover; his descriptions of friendship are so beautiful they'll bring tears to your eyes; and his tributes to his mother, Monica, cast eternally fresh light on the unofficial authority of women in the early Church.

Maria Boulding (1929-2009) was born in Wimbledon in south London in 1929. She spent 62 of her 80 years as a much-valued member of Stanbrook Abbey, a community of enclosed Benedictine nuns. She translated St. Augustine's Confessions (1997) and his Expositions of the Psalms in several volumes (2000-2004), to much acclaim.

Saint Augustine's "The Confessions" | New City Press

Writing in the last years of the fourth century A.D., Saint Augustine of Hippo created what is at once the first true autobiography in Western literature and among the most sophisticated yet accessible theological arguments in the history of Christianity. With extraordinary candor and psychological acumen, Augustine recounts his passage from a life of sensuality, Manichean superstition, and ...

A curse, in the sense I am using it, is an embraced disorder which tends toward paralysis of virtue growth.

The Curse of Crying and the Gift of Tears in The Confessions

Confessions is an autobiographical work by Saint Augustine of Hippo, consisting of 13 books written in Latin between AD 397 and 400. The work outlines Saint Augustine's sinful youth and his conversion to Christianity. Modern English translations of it are sometimes published under the title The Confessions of Saint Augustine in order to distinguish the book from other books with similar titles. Its original title was Confessions in Thirteen Books, and it was composed to be read out loud with eac

AUGUSTINE: CONFESSIONS - Georgetown University

The only participants in the dialogue in De magistro are Augustine and Adeodatus, his son who was then about eighteen years of age. Adeodatus died soon after this time. According to Augustine's Confessions, On the Teacher is based on the type of dialogues in which Augustine and Adeodatus engaged. It is a polished work, and is likely the reflective compilation of a number of conversations; certainly, it is far too orderly to be the transcript of one conversation.

AUGNET : 2114 On the teacher

Augustine's Confessions is a diverse blend of autobiography, philosophy, theology, and critical exegesis of the Christian Bible. The first nine Books (or chapters) of the work trace the story of Augustine's life, from his birth (354 A.D.) up to the events that took place just after his conversion to Catholicism (386 A.D.).
