That code indicates a problem with the "fixer film" or fuser, so you won't likely be able to

"reset" it without first resolving the problem that caused it.

Canon ImageRunner Error Code Reset - Question Defense

The error indicates a high voltage problem with the primary or transfer units. The most likely cause is the main drum being worn out. This can be checked by going into service mode. You can do this by pressing the star button once, then
