Installation of protection relays. Installation of protection relays at site creates a number of possibilities for errors in the implementation of the scheme to occur. Even if the scheme has been thoroughly tested in the factory, wiring to the CTs and VTs on site may be incorrectly carried out, or the CTs/VTs may have been incorrectly installed.

Commissioning tests of protection relays at site

Protection against earth faults operates by measurement of residual current based on the sum of the CT secondary currents. Measurement is carried out by a CSH30 core balance CT mounted on the back of the VIP35 unit. Earth protection operates with definite time; the setting and time delay are adjustable.
